AMERICAN SAILORS WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH COMMUNISTS

U.S. GUNBOAT PALOS FIGHTS OFF ATTACK OF REDS NEAR RUINED CITY

SHANGHAI, July 31.—(AP)—Intensive red activity sweeping middle China, which culminated yesterday in an attack by Chinese communists on the American gunboat Palos near Changsha in which about fifty Chinese were killed and five blue jackets wounded, today threatened to engulf Hankow, Wuchang, Han-yang and other important cities in the Yangtze valley.

Authorities of the Japanese concession in Hankow today began erecting barbed wire defenses as a precaution against possible attack. British official circles in Shanghai heard foreigners were evacuating Kiukiang. Efforts to communicate with Kuling, famous foreign health resort failed and telegraph lines in the Yangtze valley were reported interrupted at various places.

Changsha advices today indicated the fury of the communist army which burned and looted much of the foreign property in the Hunan capital.

Dispatches said there were indications the reds were preparing to depart in a day or two. The majority of the invaders had withdrawn to a huge camp east of the city.

No new fires were reported today but numerous foreign properties to which the torch had been applied still were burning. Inspection of the city by foreigners still was impossible because gunboats could not approach within five miles of Changsha due to the low river level.

Foreign Property Looted

Although foreign property on the island opposite the city had been looted, the majority of them were not burned. The reds apparently had been anxious to do.

NUISANCE FINE Is $200 and He Has 268 of Them

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—The charge against Joseph Holm, 67, rich, preferred by neighbors, is that he maintained a big crop of nuisances.

The neighbors charged that on a 75-foot lot he had one hundred and twenty-eight nuisances, 30 rabbits, 30 chickens, 4 goats and 200 dogs. The total is 268 nuisances.

The maximum fine for maintaining one nuisance is $200. Mr. Holm knows as well as anybody else that $200 multiplied by 268 nuisances is a lot of money.

MEXICO CITY PENITENTIARY SCENE OF PLANNED MURDER AND BURNING

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—(AP)—A plot to incite inmates of the federal district penitentiary here to kill their guards and burn the establishment has been frustrated by prison authorities.

OKLAHOMA POLITICAL FEUD RESULTS IN SHOOTING AND HIGH FEELING AGAINST MAN

WILBURTON, Okla., July 31.—(AP)—The upshot of a bitter political feud, County Judge J. W. Callahan of Latimer county today was held in the state penitentiary at McAlester because of high feeling following his shooting here yesterday of 18-year-old Frank Briggs, son of Claud Briggs, democratic state senator candidate and former state representative. Young Briggs received a scalp wound. He was said to be not seriously wounded.

Witnesses said the shooting came after Callahan, political enemy of the elder Briggs, but not his opponent, came to blows with the younger Briggs over opposition to the senate candidate's successful cause in the Tuesday primary. After officers had spirited Callahan to the penitentiary, they filed charges of assault with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons against him.

The exact nature of the controversy between Judge Callahan and the youth remained in doubt although it was understood the boy had voiced objections to personalities he believed Callahan had injected into the campaign.

The Briggs has been received here, where Judge Callahan was seated in his parked motor car.

Briggs had been nominated over Pat Kott, Potomac, in the primary election. Callahan was said to be the man for the Briggs in the primary election. Known as the "fighting"

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 31.—(AP)—Glenn E. McKnight, former bootleg whiskey king, and one-time federal prohibition agent, was in the state penitentiary here today, named by W. L. Thornley, confessed slayer of State Senator E. J. Dennis, as instigator of the assassination.

McKnight, sought by more than 16 state constables since Thornley confessed he was hired to shoot Dennis a week ago today, was arrested in a Charleston hospital yesterday. Despite the affidavit of his physicians that he was in no condition to be removed, Governor John G. Richards ordered him brought here.

Thornley, 35-year-old World War veteran, repeated his confession under oath to a coroner's jury here last night. He again named McKnight as the man who had inspired the shooting.

After hearing Thornley's testimony, the inquest was adjourned, to be resumed at Moncks Corner, S. C., at the solicitor A. J. Hyndrick, in charge of the investigation. Senator Dennis was shot at Moncks Corner.

McKnight, picturesque character of the Hell Hole swamp area of Berkeley, branded Thornley's confession a "lie." He joined three others in the penitentiary who were also implicated in the confession.

Thornley, in his statement, said his brother, Curtis Thornley, had told McKnight, wanted him to do the shooting. Curtis Thornley, Fred Artis and Clarence Wood, a former Berkeley deputy sheriff, are all in prison.

McKnight, picturesque character, said that he would "sell the shirt off his back" to get him "out of trouble." McKnight also told him, he said, that he was "worth around a couple of hundred thousand dollars," and that he would prove he (Thornley) was crazy.

McKnight, a member of the general assembly for 20 years, was political boss of Berkeley county. He had waged war against liquor interests and the Hell Hole swamp element for many years.

BIGGEST AIR LINER MADE FAST TRIP TO AMERICAN MAINLAND

SPEED SLOWED DOWN IN ORDER REACH MONTEAL IN COOL OF EVENING

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Montreal, July 31.—(AP)—The R-100 slowly approached the end of its flight from England today, its arrival delayed by choice or necessity until shortly before dark tonight.

Progress of the dirigible, the greatest ever to rise against the sky, over the ocean and down Belle Isle Strait had justified a general and even official relief that the R-100 would get in about 4 o'clock this afternoon, but at noon today a relayed wireless from the ship itself announced that arrival would be at 7 o'clock (E.S.T.).

No reason was given for the delay, but it was not believed it was caused by adverse weather or any enforced slowing up of the dirigible's six great engines. Rather it was believed the officers in command had decided that atmosphere would be better than dusk than in the heat of the afternoon sun.

Sun heat has the effect on hydrogen, which is the lifting gas of the R-100, of enormously increasing buoyancy, and it was thought the R-100 officers had decided on a delayed landing to avoid the necessity of valving off valuable gas to effect a landing in the full heat of mid-afternoon.

St. Hubert is an excellent field, large and with all modern facilities, but it is a strange field to land a dirigible on the R-100 and it was plausible that they preferred to time no chance merely.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

We, your committee on resolutions, beg to submit the following: The subject of this sketch, Howard Marsh, was born Sept. 22, 1869. Was married to Miss Cora Boyd, Nov. 29, 1894. There were born to this union eight children, six of whom survive: Ira, Boyd, Pete and Robert, sons; Misses Ella Drane and Mable, daughters.

Mr. Marsh spent almost his entire life in the Navarro community. He was a kind father, devoted husband, a dutiful son and loyal brother, a consistent friend and a substantial citizen.

He joined the Hopewell Baptist church some years ago, and lived a member of this church until his death, June 18, 1929.

Mr. Marsh was a unique character. He loved his family tenderly, and labored faithfully to supply their needs, satisfied with nothing short of the best for those whom he loved. His entire mature life was spent in serving the objects of his affection.

His health gave way several months before his death, making him a constant sufferer so long, yet he bore it with cheerfulness and fortitude, remaining conscious and considerate of others until the last.

Therefore be it resolved that the community has lost a substantial citizen, the home a devoted husband and father, the church a consistent member.

Be it further resolved that the Hopewell Baptist church extend sympathy to the bereaved in his home going. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the church records, and published in Baptist Progress and Corsicana Light.

His remains were laid to rest in Hopewell cemetery. Funeral services were conducted from the church by Eld. W. T. Bratton, Forney, Texas, his former pastor.

Respectfully submitted,

Rain Badly Needed In Kerens Sector; Stock Water Low

KERENS, July 30.—(Sp.)—No rain fell here yesterday to amount to anything. Farmers need rain on their cotton, and some complain of the low tanks used in watering stock and claim they will have to move their stock to pastures adjoining the river if they don't get a rain in the next few days.

Several are now hauling their drinking water from Kerens on account of their cisterns and wells being dry. The Kerens water department has notified their patrons not to use water to water lawns and flower beds until it rains again.

NEW YORK STREET CLEANING WORKERS HELD IN RUM CASE

NEW YORK, July 30.—(P)—Seven employees of New York's street cleaning department and fifteen other men were arrested early today by customs agents who seized a municipal dump barge unloading liquor into two trucks on the east river waterfront.

The liquor in the scow and the two trucks, which were also seized, was in a thousand cases and was valued at $60,000.

A customs patrol boat was making its round when it came upon the barge at about 3 a. m. at an ash dump at the foot of Roosevelt street.

The five customs men tried to surround the barge, but were engaged in the unloading operation, but an alarm went up and one of the trucks started away from the pier.

Shots were fired, knives flashed and fists flew. Many of the men on the pier ran, and others leaped into the river. Customs men arrested twenty-one of them. Inspector Beach of the federal force expressed belief that the barge had made contact with a rum ship while dumping garbage beyond the twelve mile limit.

When two of the men arrested were found to wear street cleaning department badges a check was made and seven were found to be city employees. They were released. Among them was a departmental inspector, a dump inspector and his assistant.

STEAMER FOUNDERS EARLY TUESDAY OFF PORT OF DUNKIRK

ERIE, July 29.—(P)—The Stoneboat George J. Whalen foundered in Lake Erie today, carrying fifteen of her crew down with her. Six seamen were saved.

The ship turned over, apparently with little warning, six miles off Dunkirk, N. Y., at 12:30 a. m. (E. S. T.).

The crew of the steamer Amasa Stone, of the Pickands Mather fleet, picked up six members of the Whalen's crew and brought them to port here with the first word of the sinking.

Captain W. H. McNeill of the Amasa Stone said he heard the cries of several men in the water but was able to find and save only six.

Those believed to have perished with the vessel include: CAPT. T. WAAGE, Cleveland; MATT ENLINE, Cleveland; ARTHUR WILLETS, Cleveland; CARL BEECHELE, Sandusky, Ohio.

RALPH WEISS, Sandusky; NED DE MAR, Bay City; A. P. LONGNECKER, Huron; ARTHUR ZECK, Sandusky; THOMAS PIERCE, Sandusky; JOSEPH SLALLEY, Sandusky; ED, last name and address not known.

George Clay, oil field worker with the Pure Oil company, overcame by gas in the Van field Monday evening was reported to be impaired at the Navarro County Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

crying for help in the water at about 2:30 this morning. They were picked up and told they had been afloat for at least two hours. None of them could say what had happened to the George J. Whalen, which was loaded with limestone and was on its way from Kelley's Island to Tonawanda, N. Y.

The men saved included: Echert Lange, Sandusky; Irving Ohlemacher, Sandusky; Clasper Foster, Detroit; Morris Bellair, Washington courthouse, Ohio; Walter Zeck, Sandusky; Arthur Stamm, Sandusky.

It was believed that the craft suddenly tipped over, trapping the men before they had a chance to be rescued.

The Erie coast guard crew, with three boats under command of Captain McCune, left at six this morning for the scene of the disaster to search for more of the crew.

The rescued men said the boat remained afloat upside down for at least half an hour after overturning and many members of the crew were able to stay on top of it until it suddenly dropped from sight, pitching them into the water.

Only two of the six men rescued wore life belts.

Lange attempted to swim six miles to shore, and was the first man picked up by the lifeboat from the Amasa Stone.

Captain McNeill remained at the scene of the disaster until daybreak and after cruising around and sighting no more bodies or survivors it came to Erie.

CLEVELAND, July 29.—(P)—Officials of the Kelley Island Lime and Transport company said the George J. Whalen was en route from Sandusky, Ohio, to Tonawanda, N. Y., at the time of the reported foundering. It was commanded by Captain Tom Waage of Cleveland and had a crew of 22 men. The sandsucker was without radio, however.

BIGGEST AIR LINER MADE FAST TRIP TO AMERICAN MAINLAND

for the purpose of making a slightly better time record.

ST. HUBERT, Que., July 31.—(P)—(P) Having crossed the Atlantic ocean, the British dirigible R-100 made fast time today over landlocked waters toward Quebec and Montreal.

The R-100 left Cardington, England at 9:45 p. m. E. S. T. Monday and at 9:30 p. m. last night made its landfall at Belle Isle, an island off the coast of Labrador, having travelled 2,278 miles, most of it over the ocean in a few minutes less than 48 hours.

At 4:15 a. m. E. S. T. this message came from the R-100: "0600, G. M. T. (one a. m. E. S. T.) Position 50:15 N. 59:10 W. Course and speed made good from Belle Isle; 18 knots speed; wind 22 miles per hour. Flying 2,200 feet high and making good progress. Expect to arrive at Montreal early this evening. All extremely well and taking interest in the airship's performance."

Its course from Belle Isle to its destination at the airport here, a distance of 948 miles lay in a direct line over the Straits of Belle Isle which separates Newfoundland from the province of Quebec, over the Gulf of St. Lawrence and up the St. Lawrence river, over the city of Quebec to the airport of St. Hubert, outside Montreal.

Officials at the airport expected the dirigible would arrive about 4 p. m. today or possibly sooner as favorable weather conditions over the St. Lawrence evidently permitted an increase of speed.

Elaborate arrangements were made at the airport for the arrival of the moving tower, with movable arm cables and winches, was carefully tested by the crew of 12 men.

A small army of soldiers and police were camped within the airport enclosure to guard the R-100.

and handle the crowds gathered to view the arrival.

Arrival of the R-100 by 4 p. m. today would give her the biggest airship record for east-west crossing of the Atlantic by a dirigible, as she would consume 64 hours on the 3,200 mile journey.

The British dirigible R-34, which crossed from Scotland to Mineola, N. Y., in 1919 took 108 hours. The German Graf Zeppelin required 95 hours on her last westward transatlantic trip which was over a southerly route about 500 miles longer than the great circle course followed by the R-100.

Airmen Grave Smoke.

S. S. D. U. C. H. S. S. OF YORK, July 31.—(P)—Those aboard the British dirigible R-100 wanted a good smoke more than anything else when the great craft passed over the Dutch dirigible R-34 in the Gulf of St. Lawrence at 12:25 a. m. E. S. T. today.

A radio message from the airship said: "Everything OK. Making about 70 knots ground speed. Shall be glad to reach Montreal and partake of a good smoke."

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion is really excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

EDUCATION REDUCES
CHILD ACCIDENTS

A primary reason for the steadily increasing toll of automobile accidents is that we have attempted to meet changed conditions with old, inadequate laws.

In many states traffic laws have not been revised to any extent since the oxcart days. More and more cars through highways. Congestion increases. Speed ranges rise. The chance of accidents grows constantly greater. And until traffic laws are modernized and standardized, the accident problem will increase.

Last year our laxity resulted in the death of 31,000 persons and untold property damage. Only a few states make it necessary for a driver, before using the public highways, to learn how to operate his car and understand the rules of the road. In the others anyone, irrespective of his competence, is allowed to drive a high-powered, potentially deadly vehicle on crowded highways, where he is a menace to the lives and property of all other motorists.

The bright spot in the traffic situation is the condition respecting children. The adoption of safety teaching by progressive schools throughout the nation has resulted in an amazing decrease in accidents to children. Such a demonstration should encourage more intensive efforts in the future. The public should join wholeheartedly in efforts to reduce uncalculated accidents.

DECLINE IN BIRTH RATE.

The continued decline in the birth rate in the United States is traceable directly to the change in living conditions and other economic conditions, according to the Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Dr. T. F. Murphy. The increasing popularity of apartment house dwelling, which is comparable to the cliff-dwelling of other ages, is largely responsible for the slackening in the birth rate, he said.

Many of these large apartment houses do not allow families with children to lease the apartments, he said, since the noise of children playing might prove a nuisance to other lessees. It is seldom that these houses are equipped with yards or playgrounds, he said, and this is not an inducement for child rearing.

Another potent factor in this decline is the increasing number of marriages where both husband and wife work. Dr. Murphy pointed out, and since the standard of living of the wage earner of today has been raised to such an extent that a family cannot live on the salary earned by the husband, the necessity for the wife to go out to work has arisen.

Dissemination of data concerning birth control plays an important part in keeping down the birth rate, he said, and this widespread campaign is increasing each year.

Just what effects this continued decline in birth rate will have is uncertain. Dr. Murphy said, but it will surely have bearing on the economic future of this country. Whether or not there will be a time when the population ceases to increase and when production of commodities will have to be curtailed, is too far in the future to make a prediction with any degree of accuracy, he said.

Middle-age is a period when he figures he's getting ahead if he splits the double-headed.

Lots of times the loudest yell comes from the man who didn't vote.

JUST FOLKS

WE START FOR THE COTTAGE
Candlesticks, blankets and sheets,
Carpets and flatirons and shoes,
Pile up the floor of the cottage
With things which in town we can't use.
A trunk or two strapped on the rear,
Three suits cases tied to the side,
There's a broomhandle close to my car.
It's a wonderful day for the ride.

Goldfish, canary and dog
A poker to stir up the log,
Canned goods to last us till fall,
A punch bowl we won't cust at all.
"Good stuff for the cottage," she cries.
Bridge prizes she won't throw aside.
Three rugs, six by nine is the size
It's a wonderful day for the ride.

Eight baskets of jellies and jams,
We can pack it all in if we try,
Books, records, a cake and a ham
A truck is a thing I should buy.
Lipsticks, lotions and pills,
A chair—and the paint hasn't dried—
A box for receipts and the bills.
It's a wonderful day for the ride.

Molasses and oilcloth and plants,
Shelf-paper, towels and screens,
Stuff to discourage the ants,
Frying pans, clocks and tureens,
Pack it in, stack it high,
Be sure that each bundle is tied,
Now for the cottage we'll try.
It's a wonderful day for the ride.

"KISS WIVES IN PUBLIC."

If men kissed their wives more often in public, the matrimonial world would be far better off, Edgar A. Guest, poet philosopher, declares in the current number of The American Magazine.

"The American home," says Guest, "is suffering from suppressed emotions. It needs more kisses and fewer wisecracks. It needs more elbows on the table and fewer don'ts."

The husband takes friends home for dinner, the writer continues, and spends the first moments in introductions and small talk, instead of expressing his real emotions upon seeing his wife.

"I'd rather throw my hat and coat onto a hall chair and give my wife a hug and a kiss than put my coat and hat just where they belong and forget all about the welcome ceremony," says Guest. "The most natural impulses we have are those of the affections, and we choke them back with rules and standards and false notions of what is the correct thing to do."

"If I want to kiss my wife in public, I'll do it and let the whole public snicker. I love her above all women on earth. I told her so yesterday and I'll probably tell her again tomorrow. We're husband and wife and lovers, too, and foolish and silly and unconventional. If you're a visitor in our home, you may look to see me kiss her good-bye in the morning and kiss her again when I come home at night. I'll give her a hug and a whirl around the room and ask her how the day has gone before I greet her company. And no disrespect meant to them, either."

"What the world needs is less restraint in the matter of the affections."

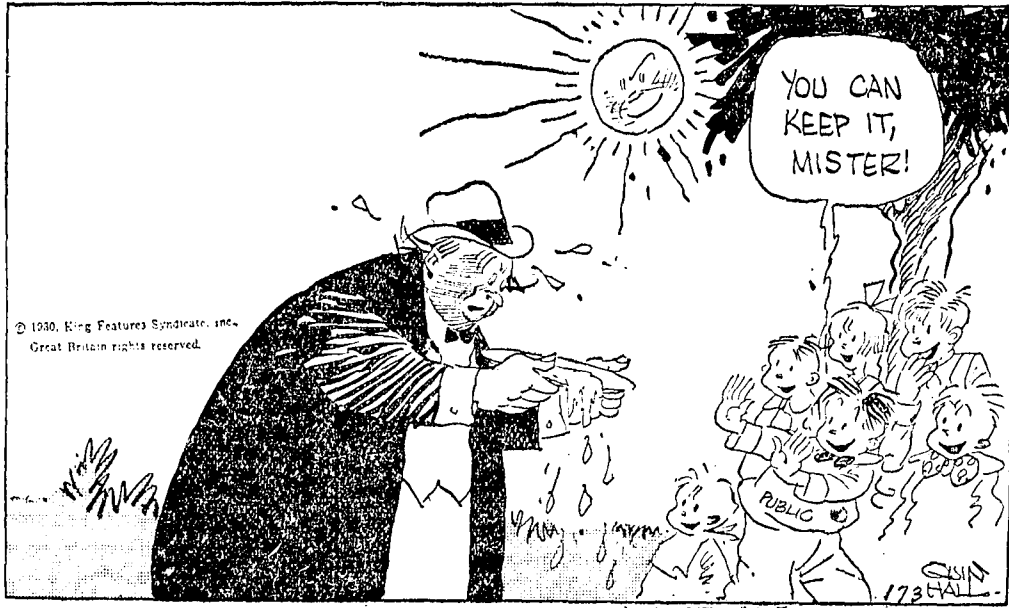

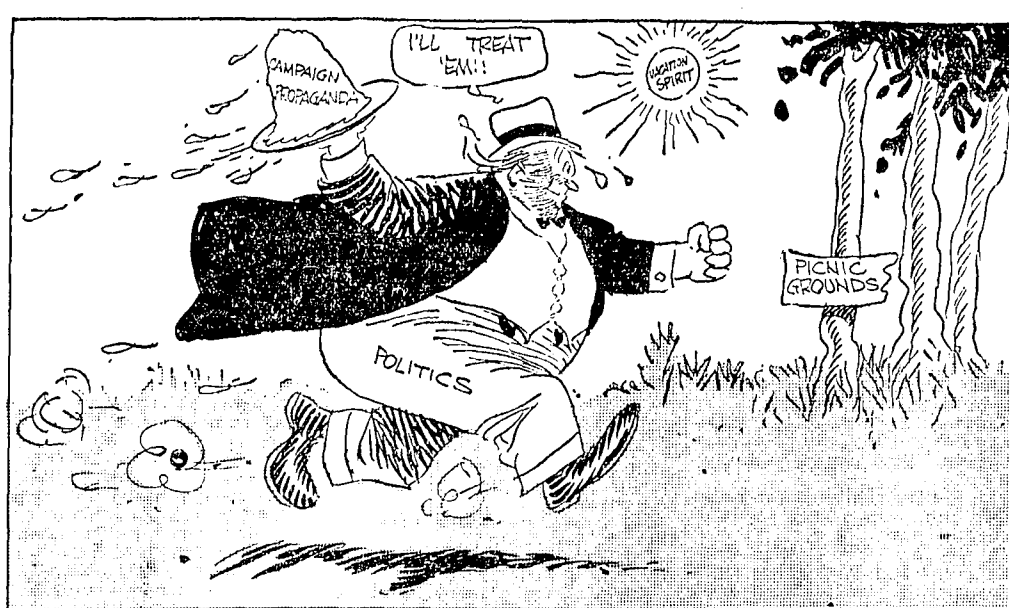

"Why don't lovers keep on loving after the honeymoon wanes? I'll risk the opinion that countless couples have wound up in the divorce court merely because they thought it was more dignified to substitute formality for love. They cultivated a correct deportment only to discover that propriety very often is cold and distant. Propriety also magnifies faults and swells little differences to quarrels and quarrels to open warfare."

"Affection undisplayed soon ceases to be. Love can't exist by itself. It needs action, and impulses and signs and symbols."

"I have gone home with my friends who explained briefly that the wife was dressing. When she came down, all her attentions was for me, the guest. The husband made no effort to kiss her and she did not act as though she expected him to. It was all quite correct, but somehow or other I felt that something was lacking. I'd have felt more at ease if that couple had hugged and kissed before greeting me. No woman can slight me by rejoicing in her husband's home-coming and no man can lose my good opinion by paying attention to his wife."

"Inconsistency," says Lord Beaverbrook, "is the secret of success." Why, only last month we were told that president of the Western Union that it was luck.

A DISAPPOINTED PHILANTHROPIST

POLITICAL CENSORSHIP.

Now a new drive has been started by the political heresy-hunters.

They demand creation of a special federal force of secret police to wage undercover war against "subversive propaganda," to defend the nation against the "red menace," to hunt down communist agitators and all suspected "revolutionaries."

In plain terms, a system of political censorship enforced by government espionage.

This proposal to introduce the methods of Mussolini into the United States has formidable backing. It is made by the National Civic Federation and endorsed by so influential a citizen as Elihu Root.

"We have reason to believe," says the distinguished lawyer and statesman, "that an assault by secret means, supported by the resources of a great empire (Soviet Russia) is aimed at the destruction of our system of government. The federal government has no police force available for our protection. Such a force ought to be provided."

His premise is correct. Notoriously, there is a lot of propaganda in this country. Undoubtedly many of the agitators are directed and financed by the Third International of Moscow. But the measures suggested would be infinitely more subversive and dangerous than the activities against which they would be directed.

Americans are perfectly aware that communism and red revolution are preached here. But the vast majority of them have sense enough to oppose repressive methods, for two reasons.

First, as a matter of justice and tolerance they hold that every political group, every political doctrine, has a right of expression.

Second, as a matter of commonsense strategy they know that to employ against these malcontents a force of federal spies would be as stupid as to use against them police gags and clubs.

A communist spouting revolutionary propaganda from a soapbox is an utterly inconsequential figure. A communist dragged away to jail or solemnly prosecuted for denouncing the government of the United States becomes a martyred hero in a sacred cause.

Furthermore, as a matter of principle, Americans want no secret agents, no police control over political activities or political opinion. They distrust and detest a scheme which would start by proscribing communists, but inevitably would be a threat to the rights of other

YOUTH AND ADVERTISING

Fifty years ago boys and girls were adept at weaving rag rugs, knotting quilts, carding wool, spinning home spun and stretching carpets. Today boys and girls know the entire abc of the automobile, the electric household utensils, and steam heat system, the aeroplane and the radio. But the youth of today knows little of what constituted the store of knowledge of the youth of yesterday.

The omniscience of youth in every era is ever amazing but that of today would be inexplicable but for one thing more than all others. That is advertising. In the newspapers, magazines and poster boards children are finding a vast storehouse of practical and useful information and instruction. The value of this incidentally acquired knowledge can not be measured in classroom hours. The youth of America is finding that advertising pays it.

Psychologists have expounded the theory that truths are sometimes observed first by the adolescent. In the case of advertising it may truthfully be said that there are some of mature age who have not yet learned the value of advertising. Advertisers do not buy newspaper, magazine and billboard space for the edification of the public, either juvenile or adult, but they recognize the children of today are not only a potent factor in the business of today but the deciding factors in the business of tomorrow.

groups to free speech and assemblage.

"The American government," says the Civic federation, "is the only government in the world that does not take special precautions against destructive communist activities."

True—and that is a distinction which ought to be maintained, since it furnishes the main reason why communism in the United States is a negligible force.

Even a congressman learns by repeated experience, and we suppose any of them who are traveling this summer have stronger suitcases.

"Come! come! get from under foot," said an irritable local parent the other morning to his small son. "You're worn't Hiram Johnson."

SPENDERS.

The exceptions prove the rule that people like to spend money. So early in life does the desire assert itself that it is thought by some to be instinctive. There is less odium attached to the name "spendthrift" than to its opposite "miser," which might be cited as evidence of the universality of the buying-habit.

This tendency among the masses to spend and buy is recognized by those who have something to sell. Before some may spend there must be others with something to sell and the times when the demand has exceeded the supply have been infrequent and of brief duration.

There are many degrees of buying or spending. Some people spend more than their incomes. Some buy for the love of "shopping" and others because they need the things they purchase. There are the heavy spenders as well as the thrifty spenders. Every member of civilized society must spend and buy in greater or less degree.

But there are only two types of sellers. There is that type which strives to give the buyer his "money's worth," and there is the second type which sees in the spending propensity an opportunity to get the other fellow's money for nothing.

It is unfortunate that the public does not do all its spending with those who give them "honest weight" for their dollars. If it did there would be no need for laws against using the mails to defraud, wildcat stocks, bogus promotions and confidence men.

R. W. GEORGE IN PENSACOLA; TELLS OF ITS HISTORY

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 24. The writer, who is from Bloomington, Ala., has been in Pensacola for a few days from Camden, Ala. We ate supper last night in Pensacola, Fla., and this morning we are watching the waves and noticing the Florida brogue.

It was very dry down through Southern Alabama and as a result crops are not good, but slightly better than in Wilcox and Dallas counties with Selma as the principal city.

Florida is stronger on turpentine than on cotton, and as a result we see some, but not a great deal. We have been disappointed all the way from Texas every time we called on the menu for watermelon. They are like Peter's fidelity when the Lord cautioned him about denying him—a little weak.

Florida believes stronger in good roads than Texas does. At least, she is beating Texas on good roads. With a six-cent tax on gasoline this state is building fine highways.

Pensacola is a city of about 40,000 population. Pretty Southern in pattern and her citizens are as chivalrous a lot of fellows as the sun ever looked down upon. We ran into town on a "flat," and they soon inflated it at the customary fee, 50c. We got off the main drive and a "cop"—about four times as high up and wide out as Will Knight—got us back and it took some tall talking to keep him from getting our goat.

Pensacola derives the name from Indian words, meaning "City of Sorrow." Diego Miruela sailed up the Western Coast of Florida in 1516 and Pensacola has been on the map ever since. Time, like the waters coursing toward the sea, went steadily on and we pick it up again. Later, when Gen. Jackson, on May 25, 1818, took possession of Pensacola. It has been in sane and sound hands ever since. Ratification and exchange of flags took place February, 1821, in the public square, now known as City Hall Park. Gen. Andrew Jackson officiating.

On our trip this far, we have been on and off the Old Spanish Trail many times and it will be remembered Congress in 1924 authorized this old trail surveyed.

In 1833-1842 Fort Pickens was built and when the Civil War broke out soldiers, or regiments of them, were stationed here. The first engagement of the Civil War on Florida soil was in the attack on Fort Pickens by Confederate soldiers. Capt. R. D. George, who died at Blooming Grove in 1927, went with other soldiers from Camden, Ala., to this same Fort Pickens under the flag of the Southern states. I visited the old fort yesterday.

There is lots of fishing and swimming here in the bay. This is a beautiful city, both in history and flowers. The climate is delightful near the water, but out about distance it is perceptibly warmer than out about Corsicana Country club. We find here, like we found in Alabama, the necessary evil—politics—

KERENS, July 29.—(Sp.)—Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Bond have returned from an auto trip through historic places in the south for the last two weeks. Mr. Bond said he visited the battle grounds at Pittsburg, Landing, Corinth and Shiloh. He said he went over the battlefield at each place and was shown where Albert Sidney Johnson was killed at Shiloh. These old battle grounds are now public parks and markers are set up to show visitors the different spots of interest. Mr. Bond said he visited Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and other large southern cities.

but we have not found out the issues here. In fact, we are not caring much, since our interests are in the political outcome in our old county of Navarro and the grand old state of Texas.

and more economical

In size, speed and durability, the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck is superior to any haulage unit ever built by Chevrolet. Yet, for all these decided advantages, it shows (according to many prominent fleet users) a lower maintenance cost than any other low-priced truck of similar capacity!

These basic facts should be borne in mind by everyone considering the purchase of an inexpensive haulage unit—in these days, when business men are watching transportation costs.

Many important features of the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck are given below. Study them. Use them as a basis of comparison—to prove quality—modern design—and EXTRA VALUE!

AMERICAN SAILORS WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH COMMUNISTS

stroy Japanese property, having burned the Japanese club here.
The communists also looted and burned the Japanese hospital on the mainland. The British Jardine Matheson steamship company's wharves were burned last night.
A slight rise in the river enabled gunboats to reach the vicinity of the Standard Oil and Shell oil properties on the outskirts of the city and it was believed these would be saved unless a succeeding river level forced the gunboats to withdraw again. The oil properties are valued at about $5,000,000 each.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—The safety of all Americans at Changsha, China, except Allen Cameron of Lawrence, Kansas, was reported to the state department today by R. H. J. E. Worley of Walkersville, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Farham and two children of Portland, Ore.; James Pates, Washington, Penna.; Edward Tudor Brown, Chicago; Maud Russell of Hayward, Calif.; and Buck Parker and Dr. Louis Farnham, whose addresses were not given.

The telegram from Hankow was dated July 30 at noon.
At the same time the navy department announced that another United States gunboat today was on her way to the area near Changsha, China, to protect lives and property of foreigners from communist troops.

SHANGHAI, July 31.—(AP)—Five American sailors were wounded as the crew of the United States gunboat Palos successfully fought off an attack of Chinese Communists near Changsha yesterday. About 50 Communists were killed and many wounded as the Blue Jacks returned the fire of the Reds who raked the ship with machine guns and rifles.

The Reds attacked from the banks of the Ssang river as the Palos was approaching the Communist-ravished city to make a survey of the ruins. Openings in the city walls and machine guns with 100 rifles and 10 machine guns, the Communists showered the Palos with bullets.

Caught in close quarters and unable to turn back, the Palos brought her three-inch rifles and machine guns into action, firing into the attackers at close range.
The battle raged for an hour before the Communists were silenced. The attackers had taken up positions behind shacks and in underground along the bank. Heavy fire was necessary to clear the shore.

The five sailors received flesh wounds only. Although the Palos was hit hundreds of times she was not materially damaged. Her steel armor plate turned the Red bullets.
Commanded by Lieut. Commander R. D. Tidale of Baltimore, the Palos, which previously had helped to evacuate foreigners from Changsha just before the Reds overran the city, sought to approach and survey the damage. An unexpected rise in the river enabled her to get near the city.

Palos Withdraws.
The attackers were believed to be a part of the Communist guard patrolling the northern border of Changsha on the lookout for possible Chinese military opposition.

After the battle the Palos withdrew down the river to an installation of the Standard Oil Company of New York and was moored. The Palos is one of the six to 12 ships comprising the American Yangtze patrol headed by Rear Admiral Thomas Craven.

Names of the sailors wounded were not immediately available.
Admiral Craven is in the vicinity of Kiukiang seeking information concerning the extent of Communist depredations in Kiangsi province. Unconfirmed reports said Communists have occupied Nanchang, Kiangsi, and were viewing Kiukiang with envious eyes.

Foreigners Urged to Leave.
A dispatch from the Standard Oil Company offices at Kiukiang said foreigners had been urged by Chinese authorities to leave immediately. Although Chinese officials failed to explain this request, it was considered an indication they feared Communist incursion of that area.

There are hundreds of foreigners, including scores of Americans in Kiangsi. They have been warned previously the place is unsafe.
Meager dispatches from Changsha reported no alarming developments today. All foreigners, with the exception of four missionaries who chose to remain in the city when it was evacuated and for whom some concern was felt, had been removed to safety by American, British and Japanese gunboats.

Virtually all foreign property in and near the city has been looted and given the torch by the invading Reds. Of government buildings only the postoffice and hospital remained.

United States May Increase Forces

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—American naval forces in China will not be augmented for the present but should communist depredations spread the danger to American lives and property the detachments probably will be speedily increased.
Careful consideration of the situation caused by the increased communist and bandit activities in the provinces of Hupeh, Hunan, Honan and Kiangsi led officers in charge of the Asiatic fleet to conclude the present naval force there adequate. Secretary Adams concurred in their decision for the present.

Meanwhile, cables to the state department report continued efforts by American diplomatic and consular officers to obtain the withdrawal of Americans living in remote spots where protection is not available. A general warning was sent out early in July by Richard P. Butrick, American consul at Hankow, and New Urgings have just been ordered. Reassurances came that, except for two men who refused to leave, all Americans were out of Changsha, capitol of Hunan, where the communists have been seeking foreigners to hold for ransom and have engaged in wholesale looting and burning. No word was obtainable, however, of the fate of the two who remained, William Lingle of Salisbury, North Carolina, and Allen Cameron, Lawrence, Kansas.

The entire Asiatic force of the navy consists of 6,000 sailors and 2,400 marines. Of these, 1,200 marines are in Shanghai, 500 at Peking, while 650 more stationed at Guam could be conveyed to China on short notice. A considerable number of the sailors are on the patrol boats which operate on the rivers of China's interior, and 969 are at Tsingtao aboard the cruiser Pittsburgh. The remainder, man 19 destroyers, 12 submarines and a dozen auxiliary craft which operate out of the Philippine Islands base. Twenty-eight airplanes are with the fleet.

British Advise Evacuation.
SHANGHAI, July 31.—(AP)—British official circles here have been advised foreigners at Kiukiang are evacuating due to communist activities. All efforts to communicate with Kuling, foreign summer resort near Kiukiang, have failed. It is understood telegraph lines throughout the Yangtze Valley are interrupted at various places.

JUAREZ OFFICIALS ARRESTED FOR PART IN ELECTION RIOT

legal and the Prieto party demands it be annulled," Corona said. "We demand that Governor Escobar investigate charges and punish those responsible for the illegal manner in which the election was conducted."

Mayor Flores said he did not know why he and the other officials were held prisoners.
"They called me to my office last night," Flores said. "They said they wanted me for a conference with Juan Salas Porras, a special representative of Governor Escobar. I came to my office and was told the conference was to be in regard to an investigation of alleged election irregularities. Porras did not show up and we were held prisoners all night."

General Arco said the investigation was strictly a state affair and that the federal government had nothing to do with it. He said martial law had been declared to preserve order during the investigation and soldiers ordered to supplant police until the investigation was completed.

EL PASO, July 31.—(AP)—Governor Romulo Escobar, of the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, today placed Juarez, across the Rio Grande from here, under martial law, after the arrest last night of Mayor Gustavo Flores, two aldermen and the city clerk of Juarez. The city officials were held at the military garrison.

No reasons were given for arresting the city officials, but it was generally believed action was an aftermath of the recently hotly-contested gubernatorial election in Chihuahua.

Governor Escobar had been investigating charges that followers of Manuel Prieto, defeated candidate for governor, and the city officials, through their police powers, controlled the voting in Juarez.

EL PASO, July 31.—(AP)—The mayor, two aldermen and city clerk of Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here, were being detained at the military garrison today after their arrest last night. It was said the men were taken into custody on advice from Gen. Francisco Del Arco, commander of the federal garrison.

The men held were Mayor Gustavo Flores, Aldermen Jose Motta and Patricio Candelaria, and City Clerk Alejandro Falliner.

Military authorities declined to state the nature of the charges against them, but it was reported they were detained for their alleged activities in the gubernatorial election in Juarez two weeks ago.

The order for the arrests was believed to have come direct from Gov. Romulo Escobar of Chihuahua state, who is investigating charges that followers of Manuel Prieto, defeated gubernatorial candidate, and the city officials through their police powers, controlled the voting.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION SEEKS ADJUST BRIDGE DIFFERENCES; ROAD CONTRACTS CONSIDERED

AUSTIN, July 31.—(AP)—A conference with members of the Oklahoma highway commission in an effort to adjust differences between the two states on the construction of a free bridge across the Red river between Gainesville and Marietta and the awarding of contracts on 15 construction projects was the main business faced today by the highway commission.

RAIL COMMISSION CONSIDERING PLAN OF OIL PRORATION

AUSTIN, July 31.—(AP)—Ironing out rough spots in the plan for statewide oil proration submitted by a committee of operators was the task before the state railroad commission today.

After one of the most largely attended proration hearings here in years, the commission had voluminous data on the need for restricted production in the state, as a means of physical and economic conservation of natural resources.

The commission, while not committing itself, seemed agreed that the special committee plan would be adopted as soon as problems relating to individual fields are solved in an equitable manner.

Placing the state under proration will also involve enforcement of the pipe line common purchaser law, whereby pipe line companies are required to purchase ratably from all producers in a field.

Since the basis of restriction, a daily production of 737,000 barrels, is based on the total nomination for purchase in the state, the pipe line law was regarded as the basis of the proration scheme. The production would be 125,000 barrels under present output.

relating to individual fields are solved in an equitable manner. Placing the state under proration will also involve enforcement of the pipe line common purchaser law, whereby pipe line companies are required to purchase ratably from all producers in a field.

Since the basis of restriction, a daily production of 737,000 barrels, is based on the total nomination for purchase in the state, the pipe line law was regarded as the basis of the proration scheme. The production would be 125,000 barrels under present output.

Oldest Mother-In-Law Story Is Famous Scripture Idyll

Tale of Two Women Whose Love Gave Literature
One of Its Most Beautiful Romances --- a Human Document and Its Original Setting.

Musty and dull jests about mother-in-law are still part of the stock in trade of the jokesmith; but the most famous mother-in-law story of all, the only one that is a beautiful romance, which has come down through the ages still saturated with the aroma of its oriental origin. And it is truer to life than any of the crude attempts to make a comic figure of the mother of husband or wife.

Naomi and Ruth have a sure place in the gallery of unforgettable women. In the furnace of the tale of bereavement which they shared, in the death of son and husband, their love was welded into permanence and beauty. Both are heroines of the greatest literature, which masters of literature throughout the centuries have acclaimed as perfect. The story does not end with the Book of Ruth itself, which should be read in its entirety, for Ruth, the beautiful Moabitess, became the great-grandmother of King David, and so the gentle ancestress of Jesus. There are implications of race, of the lady of the name, which which will bear serious consideration.

Do Women Love Women?
Strangely, and strikingly, three constructive Sunday School lessons have been given on the characters. Last week we studied Naomi and Ruth, a romance of domestic life and feminine loyalty; and next week we consider Hannah, the mother of King David. This wide circle there is room for discussion of every possible phase of what modern times have termed the Woman Question.

Uppermost in the present lesson is the ideal of woman's love for woman. Cynics say that women do not know loyalty and true friendship among themselves; and that every woman will go back on all women for the sake of a man. Like so much else of the assumed wisdom of the world, this theory is soundly disproved by the facts. The love of woman for woman, of mother for daughter, of sister for sister, of friend for friend, is one of the commonest experiences of everyday life. One needs but to contemplate his own circle of acquaintances to find mothers who go to ultimate lengths of self-denial, in order that their daughters who toil cheerfully as clerks and stenographers and teachers, denying themselves much that young women hold dear, in order that widowed mothers may not want. These unselfish heroines of daily life must surely have the special favor of Mary's Son.

Some Travel Recollections.
Our tale of Naomi and Ruth hinges upon a simple geographical fact. Famine had fallen upon the rocky, hilly fields of Bethlehem; and one of the townsmen, Elimelech, had taken his wife and two sons across the Jordan to the fertile uplands of Moab, where they had settled, and the sons had married Moabitess wives. In time, a three-fold sorrow came to the family, in the death of Elimelech and his sons.

Once, when crossing the Jordan, I met a family, afoot, who were famine refugees making the same trip. Moab, which nowadays is called Trans-Jordan, is an upland averaging three thousand feet in elevation. Its wind-swept plains are natural granaries. Today the fields are sown and harvested, not only by the Arabs, but also by colonies of Circassian Moslems, settled there by Sultan Abdul Hamid. It strikes a traveler as odd to see the persistence of Russian customs in this ungodly Arab land.

The route from Bethlehem to Moab is one of the storied trails of earth. As everybody knows, Bethlehem is but five miles below Jerusalem. From the Holy City, the eastbound road, so often traveled by Jesus and other Bible characters, leads down across the Brook Kedron; up over the southern shoulder of the Mount of Olives; down, past the ruins of the Temple, to Jericho, in the vast Jordan depression, thirteen hundred feet below sea level; and then the river and the hot plain to the foothills of Moab; thence it goes up and up, till it reaches Amman, and all the outstretched and pleasant land of Moab; where now American-made harvesting machinery is gathering the abundant crops from farspreading fields.

Probably Elimelech and his family rode horses or donkeys; but Naomi and Ruth may have returned afoot, a journey of several days.

How

Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse, of Burnside, Ky., writes: "I was in very bad health, and only weighed 110 pounds. I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 168, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 65 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can."

"I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

LOCAL SHOWERS IN COUNTY; HEAVIER IN WESTERN DISTRICT

Local showers fell in some sections of Navarro county Tuesday afternoon. The heaviest rain was in the western part of the county in the section running through Purdon, Corbet and Blooming Grove.

Dawson only had a light shower. A heavy shower fell in the Mildred area and also south of Corsicana. A heavy shower also fell in Corsicana. Showers fell in the area around Powell and other sections in the eastern part of the county.

In some places the rain was heavy enough to benefit cotton, while others it only served to break the excessive heat temporarily.

Allen Griffin Has Bought Business of Ideal Drug Store

Announcement was made Wednesday morning by Allen Griffin, former Corsicana drug store owner and well known here, that he had purchased the business of the late W. F. Sencer confectionery and drug store, known as the Ideal Drug Store, and will in future conduct this business.

Mr. Griffin stated that considerable improvements would be made on the building housing the business, with a new front, new floor and interior repairs in general, which will make of it a more attractive place where a general drug and confectionery business will be conducted.

FOUR NEGROES IN JAIL AFTER BARN AND AUTO BURNED

Four negroes, Rosa Dell Holley, C. H. Harris, Willie Warren and Bill Gibson, were placed in the Navarro county jail in connection with the burning of a barn and automobile of Pleas Halbert at Rice about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

According to Deputy Sheriff J. M. Westbrook and Jack Floyd, who answered the call and tracked the automobile in which the four negroes escaped for eight miles and made the arrests, the negroes gave statements concerning the affair, and three of them state that they entered a shed to take gasoline from a large tank. After about two gallons of gasoline had been extracted from the tank into a bucket, one of the negroes struck a match, the gasoline exploding.

Holley is suffering from a severely burned arm received in the accident.

The tracks of the automobile were followed fairly easily due to the rain, the officers said.

It was estimated that the loss of the car and barn would approximate $2,500.

The cases were investigated by the county attorney's office Wednesday morning.

Former complaints for alleged arson and burglary were lodged against Holley, Warren and Gibson Wednesday afternoon in Judge S. B. Jordan's court, but C. H. Harris was released. The investigation disclosed that the car used by the negroes belonged to Harris and the arrests were made

HIGHWAY MATTERS OCCUPY ATTENTION OF COMMISSIONERS

The Navarro county commissioners court passed a number of orders this week affecting the road program in Navarro county as well as cancelling some road bonds which had never been sold.

Condemnation proceedings were ordered instituted against Mrs. Eddy, Jack Johnston, Bob Thompson, and W. A. Brown for right-of-way on state highway 139, the Corsicana-Palestine highway, between the Three-Way Filling station and the consolidated road district No. 1 near Eureka.

After a hearing on a petition signed by two-thirds of the property owners in the Buffalo road district, the commissioners passed an order cancelling $2500 bonds voted about ten years ago which had never been sold. Originally $10,000 bonds were voted in this district and only $7500 were sold. The bonds were cancelled in order that the property owners would not have to pay interest and a sinking fund for that amount. The taxes collected on this amount in former years had been spent for road improvement in the district, it was stated.

The court formally accepted the four-mile stretch of concrete, 18-foot wide, on the Corsicana-Eureka lateral road, beginning at the city limits on North Beaton street and extending to a point beyond the Corsicana Country club.

The road was finished several months ago and has been in use for some time.

An order requesting the state highway department to award the contract for the pavement of the section of state highway 139, from Corsicana to the Three-Way Filling station, at its September meeting, was passed. This is about four miles long, and the commissioners are desirous for this road to be paved before winter.

An order was issued agreeing at the house of Harris, but that he had nothing to do with the case, officers stated.

Fire Department of Kerens Sponsoring Carnival This Week

KERENS, July 29.—(Spl.)—The S. E. Williams Shows are billed here for this week. These shows were secured by the Kerens fire department, part of the receipts going to the aid of the firemen's fund. They come well recommended, having twenty-five concessions, three rides and seven shows. This is the first time the fire department have secured a carnival to aid their fund and we are expending the Kerens people to aid them in their venture and also see some good shows.

That the commissioners court would pay the engineering costs on that stretch of road from the southeastern boundary line of consolidated road district No. 1 near Eureka to the Trinity river out of the road and bridge fund with the agreement that Navarro county is to be reimbursed by the state highway department later.

EDUCATION NOT KEEPING STEP IN TEXAS PROGRESS

COLLEGE STATION, July 30.—(P)—Educational progress in Texas is not keeping step with industrial and other forms of advancement. T. O. Walton, president of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, said today in an address before the conference of county school superintendents at the short course here.

"The time has come when we must take stock of our entire educational system which is in as pitiful a condition as it has been in during the last decade or an even longer period of time," he said.

"Too much emphasis is placed on the mode of financing and too little on the type of product turned out by educational institutions. The public is going to measure its financial support of

For More EGGS Keep Nests Clean

The birds know how discouraging it is to go into a dirty nest to work. And Mrs. Her feels the same way about the matter when she goes to perform her daily duty. But to keep nests clean has been a problem, where they have not been properly built. The picture shows how to build nests that make hens happy and save you labor. The top board is hinged to the wall so you can lift it and take the eggs without stooping. The board stays to prevent chickens roosting on it. The bottom is hinged to the wall and the legs hinged to the bottom so it can be dropped down and the nests are cleaned and ready for fresh straw.

RICHLAND GIRLS TELL OF TRIP TO EUROPEAN POINTS

MISSSES BERYL AND ELECTRA BROWN ENJOY PASSAGE ACROSS ATLANTIC

The following letter to Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown of Richland has been received from their daughters, Misses Beryl and Electra, who are touring Europe.

On Board the Cunard R. M. S., "Andania" Thursday night.

Dear Mama and Papa:

Well, here we are on our seventh day out on our voyage. Everything has been so enjoyable. "Traveling" is the best of any man and any woman can have. It is a dirty train, like the one we came up on. One thing about it though, I've hardly been warm since we left Montreal, and I'm sure I haven't since we sighted the iceberg off Labrador. We saw them all through Belle Isle Strait (the connecting link between the St. Lawrence river and the Atlantic).

They were a marvelous sight to behold. Large chunks of snow-covered ice floating on the water—there were massive things, about as large as a good sized house above the water and seven-eighths as much more under the water. Around the base were a lovely emerald green color. This was caused, of course, from the reflection of the water on the submerged part. I remember one of the largest ones we looked at it from one side. On the other side it had a very small one attached to it by a narrow archway. It seems queer that such massive bodies should be held together so loosely.

They were of all shapes and sizes, some of them so small that a ship the size of ours paid no attention to them but they would be able to do considerable damage in a fishing boat or a life boat. At times we could see as many as twenty-five at once. We saw them for about six hours but after we got into the open sea we didn't see any more. This was the reason they are so treacherous to boats. We could feel our ship veering from one side to the other as she threatened her way through the ice.

Our course led down from Montreal, around the left of Anticosti Island and through Labrador on its south side and directly opposite the north shore of Newfoundland, Labrador was the most dramatic looking country that I believe I ever saw—hilly country not a tree anywhere, patches of white snow everywhere in striking contrast to the black earth. A derelict looking wrecked in one place added to the lonely picture. We saw one light-house set in among five or six houses—that was the only sign of life we saw. The only thing that I saw was a small boat in the water. My southern heart cannot conceive of the life the people in Labrador must lead. I talked to a school teacher who said she had pupils from there and that they were the sweetest children she ever saw. Oh, yes, I must not forget to tell about the two whales we saw. We didn't see their entire bodies but could tell they were whales because of the shape of the water they sent up in the air. That was before we got to the open sea, since we have seen no sign of life other than the sea-gulls—a very peculiar sight. They have fat, round bodies almost as big around as they are long, with black and white wings. Life on board ship is one long meal—really we eat five times a day. Breakfast is at nine-thirty, about eleven they serve up chicken on deck; luncheon is at one; at four we have tea and dinner at seven. And believe me, they make their meals worthwhile—the noon and evening meals are as many as seven courses. Here's the order of an average evening meal: (1) cocktail, (2) soup, (3) fish, (4) salad, (5) dessert, (6) coffee. And it's all delicious food with perfect individual service.

Well, I could write on and on—there are so many different things to tell about but I suppose you are tired deciphering by this time. Papa, I'm sending you a toothpick they hand us as we leave the dining-room—so they must be fashionable after all!

We are getting to go by Ireland also and land in Glasgow, Scotland Sunday morning at six o'clock.

Lovingly,
Beryl and Electra Brown.

HEAVY DAMAGE SUITS ARE IN PROSPECT OVER CHICAGO BABIES AGAINST HOSPITAL

CHICAGO, July 29.—(P)—The baby boy in the William Watkins home today became "John Doe." As the infant's "best friend," Mrs. Grace Dibrrell, a prominent clubwoman, authorized Attorney Barratt O'Hara, counsel for the Watkins family, to file today a $100,000 suit for "lost identity" damages against the staff of the Englewood hospital, where the Watkins and Charles Bamberger babies were born June 30.

The baby alleges "he does not know who he is," will seek in his suit to learn if he is rightfully Charles Evans Watkins or George Edward Bamberger, the boy baptized Sunday as the Bambergers' son.

Attorney O'Hara disclosed that another suit for $100,000 damages for "mental anguish" would be filed soon by Mr. and Mrs. Watkins against the hospital.

In the trial of the suit, O'Hara said, the findings of the scientists and medical men summoned by the suit, Mrs. Watkins said:

"We don't want to force the Bambergers to give up their baby—or our baby. That isn't the idea. We may have the right baby after all. We can't figure out why the Bambergers can be so sure they have theirs."

Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel would probably be offered as evidence.

"These findings would convince Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger, if they would study them, that they have the infant really born to Mrs. Watkins," Dr. Kegel said after declaring that Bamberger had refused to read the findings.

Mrs. Dibrrell, head of the Mothers of Illinois, a group formed after the baby mixup, said a mass meeting of "mothers, prospective mothers and prospective brides" will be held Thursday to discuss means of thwarting another such maternity ward tangle.

In discussing the "lost identity" suit, Mrs. Watkins said:

"We don't want to force the Bambergers to give up their baby—or our baby. That isn't the idea. We may have the right baby after all. We can't figure out why the Bambergers can be so sure they have theirs."

IN LOVING MEMORY
On Sunday morning, July 13, at 12:25, the death angel visited the home of H. A. Cagle and took from them their darling wife and mother. All was done that tender hands could do, but God saw it best to call her home to suffer no more.

She was laid to rest in the Frost cemetery on Monday following her death on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Cagle, pastor of the Frost Baptist church conducted the funeral services.

Grandma, as she was familiarly known, was born in Georgia, Nov. 11, 1858. Had she lived until Nov. 11, she would have been seventy two years old.

She was married to G. W. Campbell, Dec. 16, 1877 and by him was the mother of two sons, Lee Campbell of Dallas, and W. B. Campbell, Centerville, Okla., and one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Cants, Solomonville, Ariz.

After the death of Mr. Campbell, Grandma was married to H. A. Cagle, Sept. 1, 1884. They came to Texas in 1893.

By Mr. Cagle Grandma was the mother of five daughters, Mrs. Ida Ross, Waxahachie; Mrs. Ada Cagle, Centerville, Okla.; Mrs. C. C. Cagle, Corsicana; Mrs. C. C. Cagle, Corsicana; and Mrs. C. C. Cagle, Corsicana.

Grandma had suffered two years with rheumatism, being confined to her room the greater part of the time. But she bore her suffering with all patience and always had a smile and a word of cheer for those who came about her. Many happy hours had she spent when her friends and neighbors called to see her as she got so lonely sitting alone.

She united with the Baptist church at the age of fifteen and had lived a noble, Christian life. She loved to read her Bible and had spent many happy hours doing so. She loved her church and its work but for several years she had been unable to attend. She always urged others, who seemed uninterested, to go to church and live clean lives. Her advice was always good and many have gone to her to seek it.

To the broken-hearted husband and children I would say—"Do not weep she is not gone forever, she is only sleeping. She is resting peacefully now, ceased forever of suffering. Let her guiding hand guide you in the same path she trod and when the time comes for you to say good-bye to this world she'll be waiting for you on the bright and shining shore."

It's true we miss her. Her place is vacant, and it can never be filled, but let's not forget that God does all things well and we must submit to his will.

Written by one who loved her dearly,
MRS. WADE THOMAS.

WESTBROOK MAIN SPEAKER AT JOINT LUNCHEON MEETING INSISTS THAT MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN FOR COTTON BODY BE ASSISTED

Insisting that the signers of the undersigned agreement for the Corsicana branch of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association assist in the membership campaign, Lawrence Westbrook, organization chairman for the organization, was the principal speaker at the second joint luncheon meeting of the service clubs of Corsicana and the chamber of commerce at the Navarro Hotel at noon Tuesday.

W. P. Brown presided at the meeting, and Gabe Goldberg led the singing.

The first Christian church pronounced the invitation. During the meal, the diners were entertained by Arnold Smith and his Melody Boys.

Clyde Foster, president of the Lions Club, called a brief conference of his club, with Fred Grimes of Hillsboro, district governor. A program committee composed of S. M. Kerr, Tom Lenox and W. T. McKee for August 5.

The Rotary program committee for next week will consist of Tom McElwee and Walter Orr.

P. J. Burnett of Waco was introduced to the meeting, along with H. W. Porter, director of the membership campaign in Navarro county.

W. C. Gilliam, licensed classifier, who will be the manager of Corsicana office.

John T. Fortson announced a county-wide "Sterling-for-Governor" mass meeting on the courthouse lawn Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Agricultural Importance.

Declaring that the chamber of commerce and Corsicana recognized the importance of agriculture as a basic industry, and that this interest had been shown in a concrete way by their endorsement of the program of the federal farm board, and the undersigning of the $5000 necessary to defray the expenses of the branch office for the first year, Chairman Brown introduced Lawrence Westbrook as a man qualified to speak with authority on the situation.

In his introduction, Mr. Westbrook stated that it was a privilege to consider the industry as a whole to discover its present condition and the reason for that condition. He pointed out that in former times, hard times were caused by years of famine, while in the modern economic system, over-production and a surplus was the cause of the majority of the trouble.

A maladjustment of various factors in the industry were blamed for the condition. He related that the steel industry was able to pay its usual dividends although its production was off about 40 per cent, while the cotton consumption had slumped only about 6 or 7 per cent but there would be no dividends.

Organization Big Part.

The whole situation, according to the speaker, Business depression and a slight surplus immediately involves the law of the survival of the fittest. Since this law cannot be changed nor can the law of supply and demand, the best thing left is to organize in such a way as to ameliorate the influence of these old laws.

Since there are about two and a half million people engaged in the production of cotton, Mr. Westbrook declared that the task of organization would be impossible without the backing of the United States government. He declared that the organization must be strong enough to control production and the surplus, enable co-operative effort, and secure acreage reduction. And the plans should be carried out in such a way that the individual should be either rewarded or penalized by his efforts.

The speaker said that the federal farm board had done some very foolish things in his opinion, but that they were faced with numerous difficulties. He said that Carl Williams, national representative, and Alexander Legge, had a thorough grasp on the condition of the industry and they would eventually be able to benefit it.

Hoped to Influence Price.

He asserted that the American Cotton Co-operative Association hoped to be able to control enough cotton to influence the price. At present the government is advancing 10 cents per pound basis including seven-eighths. In a short time, he declared, the approximately 1,000 bales a day would be received in the seasonal pool in South Texas, and at this rate this association would be able to handle about 25 to 30 per cent of the crop, enough to influence the price.

Westbrook asserted that the government would fix the price and the staple and that the contracts offered the farmers were safe and liberal. If the associations can control the surplus they can assist in fixing the price. It was not the purpose of the association to secure top prices for the staple but rather to bring the price above the cost of production.

Has Liberal Contract.

The speaker declared that Texas had a unique and liberal contract, and the only one of its kind in that the Texas farmers were allowed to deliver every alternate bale of their crop until they had delivered ten bales.

He then outlined the various pools to which the cotton might be consigned. The seasonal pool was described as one to which the farmer delivered his cotton, secured his advance, and then the government fixed the price. The optional pool enabled the farmer to fix the price at some specified date, but in this pool the advance of nine cents is all that is made, compared with ten in the seasonal pool. Then there is a daily price fixation pool, which is directly competitive with the private commercial organizations, and in which the prices would fluctuate rapidly at times; the factor's pool was named as the fifth pool, for which of fifty cents per bale was charged.

The speaker declared that he had been through the entire in-cotton business, winner and loser, and that he believed that the private cotton business and trading would materially aid conditions.

IDENTITY OF LOST AIRPLANE MYSTERY; PLUNGED INTO SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(AP)—The identity of a large monoplane reported by coast guardsmen as having been lost at sea and plunged into the ocean near Point Reyes, 30 miles north of here, remained a mystery today.

Coast guardsmen said the craft appeared shortly after 9 o'clock last night, heading toward San Francisco and flying only 200 feet above the water. A 40-mile north-west wind was blowing. Reaching the "Bonanza" Cove, the plane seemingly caught fire and plunged, guardsmen said.

lacked about 8,000 votes of having a majority over his three opponents for railroad commissioner. W. Gregory Hatcher was runnerup with 151,372. Neff's vote was 321,854.

Political Leaders Line Up for Battle

DALLAS, July 31.—(AP)—As completely returned were announced from Saturday's democratic primary, political leaders were aligning themselves for the run-off August 1st and watched with interest the elimination of various candidates and candidates eliminated in the first primary, as to whom they would support.

Representative Mike Hogg of Houston, a leader for former Congressman Jim Young, gubernatorial candidate in the first primary, issued a statement warning the "common people" against "Fergusonism" and announcing his support for Ross S. Sterling in the gubernatorial race against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Jim Ferguson spent yesterday with friends here and said he would not let his name be campaigned for Cooper, Delco county, probably next Wednesday.

Sterling's advisers planned to meet here Monday to formulate plans for his campaign. Texas election bureau figures continued to give Mrs. Ferguson a substantial lead over Sterling in gubernatorial on the first primary vote.

J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls, trailing candidate in the race for lieutenant governor, sent a telegram to State Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, leading candidate, assuring him of his support and declaring Witt's "experience qualifies you for the position." H. L. Darwin, another losing candidate, also had endorsed Senator Witt.

Martin Dies, Jr., nominated for congressional representative from the 2nd district, received congratulations from Congressman John C. Box, whom he defeated.

James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, leading candidate for attorney general in the first primary, issued a statement crediting his friends in every section of Texas who worked unceasingly in his behalf.

Cecil Storey of Vernon, eliminated candidate in the attorney general's race, issued a statement denouncing Governor Dan Moody for what Storey termed his "butting into" the campaign in behalf of Robert Lee Bobbitt, Moody's appointee. Storey withheld support from either Bobbitt or Allred.

Sterling Club Formed.

SWIFTWATER, July 31.—(AP)—A Sterling club for governor club was being formed here today among voters who supported Clint C. Small of Wellington for the gubernatorial nomination in the first primary. W. R. Johnson, A. S. Mauney and John Hendrix were among the organizers.

More than 100 names were enrolled in yesterday.

Adams Backs Sterling.

DALLAS, July 31.—(AP)—Jed C. Adams, democratic national committee man from Texas, today announced he would support Ross S. Sterling of Houston in the August 23 runoff primary with Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the gubernatorial nomination. Adams was a partisan of Jim Young of Kaufman in the first primary.

He said regardless of who gets the nomination, Sterling or Mrs. Ferguson, he would support the party nominee in November.

Mayfield Opposes Sterling.

ATKIN, July 31.—(AP)—Earle R. Mayfield, defeated candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, announced here today his opposition to Ross S. Sterling of Houston in the democratic runoff.

Mayfield declared that "to the point of almost physical exhaustion I fought from every stump in the state the unholy influence of money brought by Sterling and his associates into the campaign and I cannot now, by my ballot endorse the bold, brazen and defunct attempt to buy the governor's office."

He declared he believed it his duty to "again warn democracy of the state of the no end of trouble that awaits our party should Sterling be successful in the run-off campaign." By this he referred to his charges that Sterling had violated election laws in connection with having the name of his manager certified to the secretary of state. He predicted that in the event of Sterling's nomination, "the republicans will have no difficulty in preventing his name from being printed on the ballot."

In 1,331 precincts, Ira A. Hill, of Chicago, led the republican ticket with 24,440 votes to hold his commanding lead over James Harris of Wagoner, former national committeeman in the contest for the republican gubernatorial nomination, with a strong continued indication that he would distance Harris and Rexford Cragg, the third candidate, enough to win the nomination without entering the runoff. At this stage, Hill's vote was 24,820, Harris 15,820 and Cragg 4,181.

J. Berry King, attorney general, led A. S. Wells of Wewoka, his only opponent, 88,895 to 56,398. In the democratic primary contest for the state senator, John B. United States Senator W. B. Pine, in his walkaway race for republican nomination had 29,707 votes in 1,460 precincts, as compared to 5,572 for Charles J. Bennett and 2,440 for J. J. DeBout, his only opponents.

After lagging in early returns, Justice Albert C. Hunt of Tulsa, assumed a lead in the triangular race for democratic nomination for the state in the sixth district. In 346 of the district's 383 precincts, Hunt had 11,477 votes, Charles B. Wilson, Jr., of Pawhuska, 10,960, and District Judge Edwin R. McNeill of Pawhuska, 7,035. ## RELIEF PROMISED FROM HEAT DURING NEXT FEW HOURS

Temple and Waxahachie. Dallas reported 103.

Nacogdoches today reported "a heavy rain" in that section. Other stations reporting light rainfall to the Dallas bureau were Abilene, Amarillo, Albano, Brownwood, Childress, Crosbyton, Graham, Lufkin, Planview, San Angelo and Snyder. Gainesville reported rain there aiding late cotton and corn.

Storms Reported From Many Points

DALLAS, July 31.—(AP)—Record breaking heat temperatures in North Texas yesterday culminated in two localities in sudden and small tornado storms which uprooted trees, smashed telephone poles, demolished outbuildings and unroofed houses.

Such a midge twister struck an area in the southwest portion of Wichita Falls at one place, picking up a garage and setting it a distance away in an orchard, leaving untouched the automobile in the garage had housed. A torrential downpour of rain followed the wind. The storm was preceded by a maximum temperature of 107 at Wichita Falls. It was the fourteenth successive day there that the temperature exceeded 100. Similarly a temperature of 108 prevailed at Marshall in the afternoon, before a sudden twister descended upon two sections of Harrison county, striking first near the county line and then following the down trees near Cypress river, the moving southeastward and striking between Waskom and 82nd and Gregg 4181.

J. Berry King, attorney general, led A. S. Wells of Wewoka, his only opponent, 88,895 to 56,398. In the democratic primary contest for the state senator, John B. United States Senator W. B. Pine, in his walkaway race for republican nomination had 29,707 votes in 1,460 precincts, as compared to 5,572 for Charles J. Bennett and 2,440 for J. J. DeBout, his only opponents.

After lagging in early returns, Justice Albert C. Hunt of Tulsa, assumed a lead in the triangular race for democratic nomination for the state in the sixth district. In 346 of the district's 383 precincts, Hunt had 11,477 votes, Charles B. Wilson, Jr., of Pawhuska, 10,960, and District Judge Edwin R. McNeill of Pawhuska, 7,035. It was indicated that Hunt would enter the runoff.

LARGE VALUATION SULPHUR COMPANY BEING PROTESTED

WHARTON, July 29.—(AP)—The Wharton county commissioners' tentative tax valuation of $32,000,000 on properties of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company was protested vehemently today by counsel for the company, in a hearing begun before the commissioners.

The company, whose rendition was $11,300,000, offered a long written objection, styling the court's action as "illegal, unprecedented and unjust" and brought about by "intimidation and interference" on the part of the citizens' committee which sought the increased valuation.

COMMUNISTS CEASE GENERAL BURNING TO DEMAND LARGE SUM

VALUABLE FOREIGN PROP-ERTIES AND CONSULATES
BELIEVED DOOMED

SHANGHAI, July 30.—

(P)—Communists today continued their systematic destruction of foreign property in Changsha, capital of Hunan province, while they demanded a reply to their demand for $1,000,000 Mexican (about $420,000 at current exchange rates) to refrain from burning the entire city.

The reds ceased their indiscriminate burning of all property when they forwarded their demand to bankers and merchants but kept up the carnival of looting foreign institutions and business places and then applying the torch to buildings after distributing to street rabble the loot from the houses of "foreign devils."

Piling the loot in the streets, communists permitted the mobs to help themselves. The rabble did not resist the invasion and made off with the spoils. What little resistance was offered came from well-to-do Chinese, who were roughly handled.

A large part of the city lay in ruins. Beautiful foreign mission properties were smoking heaps of stone, brick, steel and debris. The fate of Yale College in China, perhaps the best known foreign institution, remained undetermined.

Apparently doomed to destruction were the large office buildings, foreign consulates and residences on an island in the Siang river adjoining the walled city. Among these were the offices of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Texas Company and the British consulate.

Oil Stocks Doomed.
Tremendous stocks and installations of the oil companies on the outskirts of the city also seemed destined for destruction.

Most of the foreigners left the city yesterday on British, American and Japanese gunboats. Because the river was receding rapidly the gunboats were forced to withdraw leaving millions of dollars worth of foreign property unprotected.

No further word was received as to the fate of our missionaries believed to have remained in the city. They were the Rev. W. H. Lingie, of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions; Dr. Allen N. Cameron, representative of a branch of the Galilee Baptist church of Denver, Colo.; Miss Gertrude Rugg, of the British China Inland Mission, and an Italian Catholic priest.

Whether there had been loss of life among the foreign inhabitants was not known, but about fifty were removed on the gunboats before sack of the city commenced.

Reds Swarmed Into City.
The reds swarmed into the virtually defenseless city Monday. Numerous Nationalist and provincial officials were executed. A brother of Ho Chien, provincial governor, was beheaded, but the governor himself escaped.

Ho Chien's movements were not known here, but it was believed he will return to Sanghai soon. Communist leaders announced they would not behead him immediately should he fall into their hands.

Local influential Chinese a content Nanking authorities should seek to extend definite military assistance to the stricken city. Otherwise, they said, the future strength of the reds would be materially and morally enhanced.

Movements of provincial forces, first reported marching against Changsha from the north, were unknown here. That these forces would attempt to drive the communists from the walled city was considered unlikely since the invaders had a better organized army than the military.

Changsha is considered one of the richest and most modern of interior China cities.

Situation Causes

Worry in Capital

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(P)—Concern was expressed in Washington today over disquieting reports from war-torn sections of China in which Americans still remained.

Official sources have disclosed that two American missionaries remain in the burning city of Changsha, left behind by American, British and Japanese gunboats. The missionaries, both men, were named in the meagre reports. Both refused to leave when the gunboats were compelled to withdraw because of the overwhelming number of communists and the rapid fall of the water mark.

The only other foreigner known to have been left behind was an Italian missionary, Father Baiman, reported captured by bandits when he made a last-minute effort to get away after refusing to abandon his post.

Meanwhile cables from the American legation at Peking told of an American warning sent to the Nanking government against endangering American lives at Tainan, where the Nanking forces have been carrying on bombing raids.

Americans May Withdraw.
"Efforts are being made to have the American citizens at Tainan withdrawn," the Nanking foreign office was told by American Consul Ames at Nanking. "However, the American government expects that every precaution will be taken to avoid loss and injury to American lives and property, and should any losses or injury be suffered by American citizens at Tainan the American government reserve all rights in the matter."

Only four Americans remain in Tainan and consular officers said they were continuing efforts to have them leave. American mission property there is valued at $250,000.

The communist forces at Changsha were reported to have burned all public buildings and to be engaged in widespread looting. Only the Yale college and the post office were destroyed at the last reports, while American oil plants were not threatened at the time.

Changsha in January had a population of 48 Americans. It is one of China's important industrial cities.

Changsha In Flames.
PEIPING, China, July 30.—(P)—Latest reports received here today said that the city of Changsha was in flames.

All government buildings and foreign property in the city were burned with the exception of the postoffice and the hospital. The premises of American oil companies were stated to have been burned.

Missionaries Quit Changsha.
NEW YORK, July 30.—(P)—The Presbyterian board of foreign missions today received a cable from Shanghai saying all missionaries had left Changsha, which was burned and looted by communists.

This was taken to mean that Dr. W. H. Lingie, veteran Presbyterian missionary, had reconsidered his decision to stay in Changsha and left with the other Americans and British on gunboats.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 30.—(P)—The home office of Yale in China today announced that it had been informed by Dr. Louise Farnham that the Yale hospital at Changsha had escaped damage during the rioting of communists.

To our neighbors and friends of the Corsicana oil fields. We take this method through the Daily Sun of thanking each and every one of you for the love and sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our loved one, Mrs. F. H. ## TAX BOARD HIKES RATE ONE CENT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1930

AUSTIN, July 30.—(P)—

The state automatic tax board today set a total rate of 69 cents per $100 for the fiscal year starting September 1, 1930. The rate is one cent above the 1929 assessment. Estimated revenue from the rate was placed by the board at $10,833,925.95.

The board raised the tax for educational purposes from 31 to the constitutional limit of 35 cents and lowered the ad valorem tax rate from 31 to 27 cents, eight cents below the limit allowed by the constitution.

The school tax was expected to pay an apportionment of $17.10 per student during the next fiscal year. This apportionment, however, will be set by the board of education, probably at its next meeting.

The tax rate for Confederate pensions was set at 7 cents.

The reduction in the ad valorem tax rate was voted when W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, reported the deficit in the treasury would not be as large as estimated because a large amount of the current appropriations would be expended Sept. 1. The deficit was figured at $1,223,000 but will be slightly more than one-half that amount.

The average tax rate during the four years Gov. Dan Moody has been in office was computed at 67 cents per $100, the lowest since the present constitutional limitations, the governor said.

The board is composed of Gov. Moody, Treasurer Hatcher and State Comptroller George H. Sheppard.

POURING CONCRETE ON EMHOUSE ROAD HAS BEEN STARTED

Pouring of concrete on the four-mile stretch from the end of the present pavement on the Corsicana-Emhouse road to Emhouse, a distance of approximately four miles, got under way Wednesday morning, W. W. McClendon, county engineer, stated.

The F. P. McElwath Construction company has the contract for this work, and the pouring started just north of Briar creek and is to be extended to Emhouse. Materials, etc., are being hauled from Emhouse to the scene of construction. When the strip to Emhouse has been completed, the outfall will be returned to the starting point and the 18-foot pavement will be connected with the present four-mile stretch that has been completed and accepted.

The state highway department is to gravel the four-mile stretch from Emhouse to the Ellis county line which will be used as a detour road for highway 75 now under construction northward via Rice. The completion of this Emhouse lateral will give Corsicana an all-weather road northward by winter.

SICK AND CONVALESCENT.
Edgar Tackett underwent an appendicitis operation Wednesday at the Navarro County Hospital.

Dawson Got First Bale On Tuesday

DAWSON, July 30.—(Spl).—C. C. Slater brought the first bale of the 1930 cotton crop to Dawson Tuesday. It was sold Wednesday morning to the Major Davis gin, highest bidder for 15 cents per pound. A premium of $39 was raised and the seed brought $9. The bale weighed 485 pounds and brought $72.75, making a total of $110.75.

The first bale last year was brought in about the same time.

DISTRICT MEETING OF LIONS CLUBS AT TEAGUE RECENTLY

TEAGUE, July 29.—(Spl).—W. B. Landrum of Mexico acted as chairman protem of a meeting of Group 12, composed of representatives of 12 Lions Clubs in this district, held in Teague with the Teague Lions club as host for the occasion.

District Governor Fred Grimes of Hillsboro, was present and made a report on the international convention, giving valuable information to club representatives to take home to their clubs.

After a delightful program of music made by the Teague club, a business session of the group was convened when club representatives went into a round table discussion of club problems, exchanging ideas of interest and value to most of the members.

A selection of officers was held at the conclusion of the meeting and Lynn Sanders past president of the Hubbard Lions club, was named as chairman with Carl Boyles of the Hubbard club, as secretary, it being the policy of the group to name a chairman and a secretary from the same city.

After taking over the gavel, Mr. Sanders invited the group to hold its next meeting in Hubbard some time during the month of October and by unanimous vote Hubbard was selected as the next meeting place.

Clubs represented at the meeting included Texas, Mexico, Palestine, Corsicana, Hubbard and Hillsboro.

COMMUNISTS AIM IS TO OVERTHROW U. S. GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, July 30.—(P)—Arthur Garfield Hays, counsel for the revolutionary group, and the communist party U. S. A. (majority group) said in federal court today the aim of the party is to "eventually" overthrow the government of the United States. The leaders were not "foolish enough to believe the overthrow could be brought about except by force," he added.

Mr. Hays made his statement in arguing for an order restraining Postmaster Kiehl from interfering with the transmission by mail of the revolutionary organ. He said, however, that overthrow was out of the question at present, and upon this basis his contention that postoffice authorities should not interfere with the dissemination of communist views by mail.

United States Attorney Tuttle said the matter of freedom of speech and of the press was not at issue, the admitted aims of the communists being what they were. The court reserved decision.

France Prepares for Outbreaks.
PARIS, July 30.—(P)—Troops and republican guards were concentrated today in Paris and other centers of communist outbreaks to prevent disorders.

Friday, the sixteenth anniversary of General Mobilization for the world war and proclaimed by the communist party as "international anti-war day."

The communists in France have planned not only to protest against "preparation for war" but to agitate resistance to the new French social insurance law. Many workers, including 28,000 at Lille, are now on strike against the reduction of 4 per cent of their wages for this insurance.

Premier Tardieu has forbidden any parades, meetings or interference with work Friday.

Mrs. L. K. Curraway underwent an operation for appendicitis Wednesday morning at the Navarro Clinic.

III. Thumb-Sucking

"He looks so cute! I can't bear to make him cry."

So says the young mother as the rosy baby sucks away contentedly at his thumb. But does it get him anywhere? He is a little bundle of energy equipped to go far; but by mother's indulgence, he may get started—like the squirrel in his cage—on a route that has no goal. Have you seen the elephant at the zoo, weaving his tremendous hulk back and forth, just for "the feel of it"? He is bigger than your pretty baby, but they are both seeking "the feel."

Why make a fool of your baby? You think a hen that eats her own egg is "a dumb-bell," and a cow that milks herself is worse than stupid. A snake with its tail in its mouth is the recognized symbol of absurdity. We scorn them all, because their activity is turned back on themselves and goes for naught, and yet we let our babies emulate them.

Think what a steel-jawed trap of habit snaps shut on your baby as you once let him get the voluptuous "feel" that comes with thumb-sucking. It is only a sensation; but we are born with an insatiable appetite for sensations—all the way through, from thumb-sucking and self-abuse in infancy and youth, to alcohol and drug-addiction and many a perversion of sex in adulthood. There is no aim or goal to any of these activities, outside the passing sensations they bring.

Did nature make a mistake in endowing us with the power to feel? The blame can hardly be placed there, for when the kitten, the pup and the baby-chimpanzee doubtless get as much pleasure as does the human baby from natural suckling, we see none of them strenuously sucking their paws, paws for the sake of a pleasant sensation. They have to scratch around for a living so early that they find other use for their paws. The human baby, fortunately has time for bad habits—and the thumb is so convenient at hand.

A few months later your child is on exhibition at the table or in the parlor, or later still on the playground among his mates. You become uncomfortable as you notice the lack-lustre expression on his face, while he applies himself diligently to sucking his thumb. Nor are you reassured by the hint of voluptuousness that looks out of his eyes. He is interested in nothing but his own sensations. Thoroughly aroused, you try to tear him out of the clutch of the entrancing habit. But oh, the agony that both the child and the parent go through in the process of tearing loose from what has become a very part of himself! Although it is only a sense pleasure, he is in danger of becoming an invert—a personality turned in on himself, leading a sterile existence. This is the psychic side of the picture.

Then there is the physical side—of really great importance. The baby's jaws are plastic, ready to be moulded into the beautiful shape that is nature's own pattern; just the right curve of upper and lower jaw, so that the pearly gates from above and below may meet in close occlusion as the child bites down on his food. But the push of the thumb on the gums, and the push of the check muscles in sucking, changes the shape of the jaws, gives your child a rabbit-face—oh the pity of it!—and upsets all of nature's plan for the child's future. The child can neither bite well, nor grind his food well.

Finally, the money that might have gone into a motor-car, or a trip to Europe goes to the Orthodontist's bills, and the child's discomfort more than offsets the temporary sense-pleasure he gained by your indulgence long ago. If you really love your baby, he will not suck his thumb.

EDISON CONTEST ENTRANTS FACED FIFTY QUESTIONS

ORANGE, N. J., July 31.—(P)—Forty-nine young men from as many parts of the United States knelt their heads today as they surveyed some fifty questions Thomas A. Edison had propounded them. Of the group one will answer the questions more accurately than the rest and will be proclaimed the winner of the Edison scholarship for 1930. Announcement of the successful candidate will be made tomorrow morning on the lawn of Glenmont, the Edison home. The boys were given until one o'clock to complete their papers. The examination was in four sections. The first dealt with chemistry, mathematics and physics. The second contained personal questions regarding their own possible success or failure. The third required them to reply to a letter asking the advisability of and the student reaction to a proposed lecture course for a University of Manchurian cooking. The fourth section contained general identification questions, historical, individual and social.

The basis of the questionnaire was explained as Mr. Edison's idea of a successful scientific life. Five things were essential, the inventor was quoted as saying: ambition, character, imagination, will to work and general information.

Some of the questions. WEST ORANGE, July 31.—(P)—Here are some of the questions propounded today to forty-nine boys in Thomas A. Edison's examination of candidates for his scholarship to a technical school. They were prepared by Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey S. Firestone, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Lewis Perry of Phillips Exeter academy, George Eastman, President William Lowe Bryan of Indiana university and Dr. Hubert S. Howe of Columbia university.

"How is avacadro's hypothesis used to determine molecular weights? Make suggestions as to how pure silver can be obtained from a silver coin. State the meaning of: combining weight; density; atom, heat or reaction, valence?"

"A man has two solutions of a certain chemical in water. One contains 50 per cent of the chemical by weight and the other ten per cent. He wishes to obtain 80 grams of solution containing 22 per cent of the chemical. How much should he take of each of the solutions he has?"

The base of a pyramid is a square, each side of which is 12 inches. Each of the other four edges is 20 inches. Find the altitude and the volume of the pyramid.

"(a) simplify: (R exponent 1-3) S exponent 1-3) (R exponent 2-3 minus R exponent 1-3) (S exponent 1-3 plus S exponent 2-3)

"If a church organ is not provided with some sort of heating arrangement it will play out of tune when the church is cold. Why?"

"What is the smallest height mirror standing vertically in which a man six feet tall standing erect can see his entire length?"

"Aluminum is claimed to be very superior substance for cooking utensils. What are the physical properties which are in favor of against such use?"

"When you look back on your life from your death bed, by what facts will you determine whether you have succeeded or failed?"

PERMITS FOR INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL BE TIED UP WITH PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(P)—Supervisors of industrial alcohol permits were summoned to Washington today to consider the problem of effectively combining their efforts with those of the prohibition enforcement unit of the justice department in an intensive battle against the traffic in illicit liquor.

While the twelve prohibition administrators, in charge of enforcement in the field, continued their two-day conference, the supervisors were called into a separate meeting with their chief, James M. Doran. The subject of united action was approached in two days with Dr. Doran addressing the administrators and Amos W. W. Woodcock, the director of enforcement, speaking to the supervisors.

In addition to the problem of co-operation, Doran said, the supervisors were ready to tackle the general question of improving the administration of the industrial alcohol laws and also questions of personnel and budget.

An important subject, he added, was the question of preventing violations of the dry laws without interfering with legitimate business in industrial alcohol.

Once coordinated in the treasury department, the two branches were separated by the transfer of the enforcement unit to the justice department. Today's meeting was the first for the supervisors since the reorganization on July 1.

Woodcock late yesterday issued a statement saying the primary object of the present enforcement regime is a reduction in the consumption of intoxicating liquor and not the number of conviction that can be obtained for violations of the prohibition statutes.

A policy of steady pressure against the larger commercial violators will be followed, he said, and his agents will not be permitted to waste their time in drives against petty, non-commercial violations.

In addition he announced schools would be established for training agents, a system of daily reports from all enforcement districts instituted and an effort made to obtain uniform sentences for violations of an approximately similar extent.

Laborite Censured
By House Commons
After Investigation

LONDON, July 31.—(P)—The house of commons today by 304 votes to 13 passed a motion of censure upon Elijah Sandham, Laborite, who had charged in an address that Labor members drank and accepted bribes.

The resolution, proposed by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, provided that Mr. Sandham be admonished by Mr. Speaker for the breach of privilege he has committed.

Sandham's charges were investigated by the committee of privilege, which reported that he "deserved the censure of commons."

After the vote, the speaker, in accordance with ancient ceremony, put on his three-cornered hat over his full-bottomed wig—a wig reaching to the waist—and addressed Sandham in grave tones, declaring that he had gone out of his way publicly to degrade the honor of the house of commons.

"It only remains that in accordance with the decision of this house I should admonish you which I accordingly do," he concluded.

OPPOSITION TO MEXICAN CLAIMS FOR WATER VOICED

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(P)—Opposition to any agreement with Mexico involving recognition of that nation's claim to any waters of the Colorado river was expressed today by Senator King, democrat, Utah, in a letter to Secretary Stimson.

Referring to newspaper reports that Ambassador Morrow was seeking an agreement whereby Mexico would be awarded half the waters from Boulder Dam, and the United States would purchase water unused by Mexico, with the income thus derived going to pay claims of American citizens against the southern republic, the Utahian wrote:

"If the negotiations referred to are being conducted by Ambassador Morrow for the purpose of securing compensation on account of the losses sustained by American citizens, it is to be hoped that success will attend his efforts."

"But if the negotiations rest upon the assumption that Mexico has any interest in the waters of the Colorado river for which she must be paid by the United States, then the sooner such negotiations are terminated, the better it will be for the United States."

"The waters of the Colorado river are owned and controlled by citizens of the United States within the Colorado river basin and the United States. Neither the republic of Mexico nor any of its citizens are entitled to the use of any of the waters of the Colorado river."

Chancellor Snowden said the ratification will be deposited simultaneously with the ratifications of the Dominions and India and the ratifications of the United States and Japan when all three parties to part three of the treaty are in a position to bring the treaty into force in accordance with article 24.

The king's signature of ratification of the treaty must not be confused with his assent to the parliamentary London naval treaty bill which will be conveyed by a royal commission with historic ceremonial in the house of lords tomorrow.

He will spend a day or so in San Antonio before returning to Mexico. He had been in Havana and New Orleans for a three weeks' vacation.

There was no known political unrest in Mexico, the former president averred. All the people, he added, were rallying to the support of the Ortiz Rubio administration.
